

DECADE SPEAKER SERIES presents

The DECADE Speaker Series features distinguished speakers from across the country and invites the UCI community to participate in dialogue focused on campus climate and diversity.

Daniel Solorzano, Ph.D.

Professor of Social Science and Comparative Education, UCLA

USING THE TOOLS OF CRITICAL RACE THEORY AND RACIAL MICROAGGRESSIONS TO EXAMINE EVERYDAY RACISM

WEDNESDAY, May 21, Time: 11 AM

Daniel Solorzano, Professor of Social Science and Comparative Education in the Graduate School of Education and Information Studies at UCLA, will use a Critical Race Theory framework and the tools of racial microaggressions to study everyday racism inside and outside of educational institutions. He will share various forms of data and a working model to examine racial microaggressions, exploring the trajectory of this research and the questions yet unanswered. Lastly, Professor Solorzano will engage the audience in a dialogue about how we can improve the learning environment to maximize engagement, learning and discovery for our increasingly diverse community.

LOCATION: STUDENT CENTER, MOSS COVE A & B
