Your doctoral student/post-doc has applied to participate in the CSULB/UCI PRE-Professor Program (PREPP). The purpose of the program is to support graduate students and postdoctoral scholars by engaging them in a semester-long program at California State University, Long Beach (CSULB) that will help them become successful in a faculty position. PREPP will immerse participants in the life of a faculty member at a comprehensive master's granting institution. PREPP Fellows will have individual mentorship from an experienced Faculty Mentor in two broad categories: Instruction, and Understanding the Campus Culture and Service.

This program will require approximately 40-50 hours over the course of the semester, with many of the activities done asynchronously with their PREPP mentor and cohort of PREPP Fellows (email, video conferencing, online modules).

As this program requires time by your student/scholar away from your lab, we require that the primary research advisor/supervisor approves of their participation.

I approve of this doctoral student/postdoctoral scholar’s participation in the CSULB/UCI PRE Professor Program (PREPP) and support the use of their time to complete the program.

I DO NOT approve of this doctoral student/postdoctoral scholar’s participation in the CSULB/UCI PRE Professor Program (PREPP) and support the use of their time to complete the program.
